Attendees

The AOPT Scientific Meeting is an international conference focused on bringing together clinicians and other eye care professionals, academic and industry scientists from around the globe to share their exciting new discoveries related to the treatment of ocular diseases.

We anticipate having attendees coming from 15 different countries, including physicians, researchers, professors, ophthalmologists, and optometrists.

Why support AOPT 2013?

The AOPT Scientific Meeting is promoted on a daily basis, reaching over 20,000 people around the Globe.

This meeting has successfully been held since 1993. It is the biennial meeting of a global association devoted particularly to ocular pharmacology and all aspects pertaining to treatment of ophthalmic diseases.

If your business, brand or organization is related to ocular pharmacology and treatments, the AOPT 2013 Scientific Meeting is the place and time to meet professionals from all around the world.
